It's not just insurance litigation that we have, it's CONFIDENTIAL, CLASSIFIED, and SECRET documents from FAA, FBI, TSA, USDOJ, and others.

'We're seeing a lot of misinformation about what we have and what the significance of it all is. Some are saying that 'insurance data and litigation' isn't important and not significant. We've concluded that these individuals haven't read our official press release available at (www.pastebin.com/4F5R8QyQ) that dives deeper into the full explanation. What we have that's the most significant is the SSI (Sensitive Security Information) and SCI (Special Compartment Information) from the likes of the FBI, CIA, TSA, FAA, DOD, and others. When very complicated cases are litigated, often times, these highly confidential and secret documents must be introduced into closed proceedings for litigation purposes. Solicitors, both offensive and defensive will retain copies of these documents during the duration of the proceedings. They're supposed to destroy them afterwards, but as we're showing the world, that doesn't always happen. This story isn't about insurance litigation so much as it's about highly sensitive SCI and SSI that details security procedures, defence operations, law enforcement investigations, evidence materials, and more that was never publicly released due to its sensitive nature.'
