X. MISCELLANEOUS

A. An unconfirmed report from our friend of Slovenia communicates: In the Ruse-Slevenska Bistrica-Vojnik-Konjice, region 3 Soviet Divisions are concentrated, 1 artillery, 1 armored, and one infantry.

B. A detachment of chetniks at Pokljuka-Jelovica, which was headed by Lt. MEHLE, suffered heavy casualties with a superior enemy which was directed against the Morgan Line during the last days of March. The unit was left without any ammunition and after heavy losses was forced to retreat. Lt. MEHLE died in battle. At the beginning of March, in the Labos Valley in Styria, a battle was raging for two days with elements of the Royal Yugoslav Army. A day later a squadron of planes bombed the positions of the Royal Troops. The report from the partisans (TITO) announces that their forces were attacked by "armed bands" near Dravograd and as a result 63 partisans were killed.

In the last days of March many wounded of Tito's army arrived in the hospital at Zagreb. It is supposed that these are the wounded that fought against E.R.Y. (Royal Yugoslav Army) at Gorski Kotar. Krisari (crusaders) also fight Tito. The Krisari were also noted at SKofja Loka and one was taken prisoner at Visnja Gora. They are strictly Allied with the forces of Mihajlovic.

XI. POLITICAL REPORT:

Information received from our informer 25 March communicate that in Prague Tito met members of the Russian General Headquarters with whom he discussed the problem of reorganizing the Yugoslav Army and in the event of war to place it under the command of the Russians.

Tito spent a certain amount of time in Zone "B" and also some time at RIJEKA (Fiume). In Zone "B" there are 2 Russian generals with a certain number of high-ranking and other officers. In general they obtained control in commanding the Tito troops on the Morgan Line. During the beginning of May manifestations against the Catholic Church were organized by the Tito government, especially against Archbishop Stepinac, who was interned in his palace at Zagreb. The Nunzie Appostolice who had arrived 28 March from Yugoslavia spoke of a general discontent of the people against the present dictatorship and regime. He himself was hampered. He refused to sleep in Lubiana in the hotel apartment previously assigned by the Tito government and he asked for the Archbishop's apartment where the soldiers of Tito were lodged. When he visited the rooms the soldiers belittled him with diverse insults.

XII. ACTIVITY OF THE "OZNA" IN ITALY

From all our information centers confirmed reports are received that the OZNA in the last days, attaching itself the Italian Communist Party, has increased its activity in Italy for the annihilation of the Yugoslav nationalist forces in Italy and to reinforce her espionage activity against the Anglo-Americans. All this is performed by the OZNA under the legal aspect employing its members under any form of social endeavour, "Red Cross", Commercial Missions, etc.

A few days ago a partisan colonel AVDO ZULFIKARPASIC, now in the service of OZNA, arrived in Rome. He succeeded in presenting himself as a "refugee" and he received a place in the San Geronimo mess. Unconfirmed reports indicated that the Col. is destined to engage in Communist activities among the Mohamedans.

ANDRIJA DEMIROVIC came to Rome from Naples to receive instructions from the OZNA headquarters which is under the auspices of the Yugoslav diplomatic mission in Rome. On Via Barlet, Piazza Bologna, there is a secret office where members of the OZNA use for confidential meetings. Our informer will soon be able to participate in these conferences as a "member" of the Italian Communist Party and we shall know the particulars of these gatherings. The III Section of the OZNA of Belgrade despatched to Naples 81 members to conduct disruptive propaganda amongst the employees of RAF and other employees of the Allies. These individuals are mostly youngsters and women. They speak English, and arrived under the pretext of studying and live in the "Malcolm Club" in Naples. The base is Via Roma. These Communists scatter their leaflets daily in the English camp "Lamija Camp" where one of our regiments (Yugoslav) is stationed. The manifestees incite our soldiers to return home and not to serve the English.

XIII. THE SITUATION IN ALBANIA:

According to information received from our informant on 20 March, there were 102 Russian officers, of all ranks, in uniform and in civilian clothes, in Tirana on 17 March. Those in uniform control the armed forces, while those in civilian clothes perform other services: control of industry, commerce, finance. A strong mission for Tito is in Tirana. The national resistance is strong. The Albanian nationalists are in contact with the forces of General Mihailovic. Their forces are calculated about 10,000 men in North-Albania. The resistance is not too strong in Central and Southern Albania.

The spiritual leader of the resistance is BAZI CANO who was transferred to Cairo at the moment the Russian troops arrived, and from where he exercises influence on the individual leaders of the resistance: MUHAREM BARJAKTAR, PRINCIPE ALE (died recently), the more active are the MIRIDITI. The army of the government has the strength of 76,000 men armed with light infantry arms of various types and models. They have a few .75mm cannons and some AA guns of the Italian model.

From a confidential source it is ascertained that 75% of the members of the armed forces are against the regime.

On 27 March a report arrived stating that the Italian Communist Party actively collaborates with the Yugoslavan and Albanian OZNA on a pre-established plan. The Albanian OZNA at Rome is directed by Dott. HICO KORAINI, doctor from Djirekaze, who is head of the OZNA. He lives at Via Patrici 6 B: He conceals his activity under his official duty as President of the Albanian Red Cross.
